Two diagrams are presented herewith that suggest a plan for greatly benefiting highways at a small cost. In regions where stone walls line the roadways, causing drifts in winter, let a trench three feet or so in depth be dug along the center of the road, and filled with stones from these drift-form-

The "people," in this case, include wheelmen along with others.

But do the commissioners always look after the condition of the streets to the best of their ability and to the greatest degree of comfort of all concerned?

Well, hardly. They are really not to be taken seriously. The mere fact that they are elected or appointed to do certain things is no reason why they should do it, so they think.

The fact of the matter is, a public office is a public joke. They "jolly" the people, while the appropriation for street cleaning and repairing goes! Tell us, ye winged winds, where, oh, where, does much of it go?

And the country road supervisor, or committeeman, is a smaller but more numerous joker. No one really expects him to look after the roads, and so he never surprises or disappoints them.

But there is such a thing as carrying a joke too far. The dirty street, badroad joke, has about reached the limit. People are turning from jest to earnest. They are tired of "iooling."

It is important that the seed be sown early. Be sure that the seed is of good quality. If the seeding is to be done by hand, work out the rows about eight inches apart and make the drills about one inch deep. Sow the seeds as early as possible, two or three seeds to the inch. It is quite an item to get the seed distributed evenly in the drills. The advantage in using the drill is that the seed can be sown and covered more evenly with less work.

Some growers, in order to get the plants started earlier and to some extent at least lessen the work of keeping the crop clean at the start, sow the seed thickly in a bed or frame, and, after they are well up, transplant them into rows where they are to grow.

As when the seed is sown it is important to have the soil in a good tilth. Work out the rows and then lay the such an outlet. The great road-de-stroyer is water that is not properly turned from the surface. Make such turned from the surface. Make such cut than to have vacant places in the

It is said that large glass houses are crected expressly for their cultivation. The plants are grown in large pots, and are said to be raised very successfully in this way, the plants producing much more abundantly than when grown in benches, as with us. WOMEN AMONG FLOWERS. School of Gardening for Girls in a Suburb of Berlin. A London paper tells of a school of gardening for girls in a suburb of Berlin. It is a comparatively new venture, having been founded two years ago by a private lady. At present it seems to be succeeding. The pupils-15 in number-do the work entirely without extraneous aid, growing all sorts of vegetables, as well as apples, melons, grapes, pears and cucumbers, for which a ready sale is found. They wear a dark gray uniform, consisting of a bedice and a skirt of reasonable length, which, by an ingenious arrangement, can be made quite short for working in and let down at will. The girls beat all the men at a recent board of agriculture examination, and one of them has just obtained a post as gardener to a gentleman at a salary of $120 a year, with board and lodging. They are all fine specimens of healthy, vigorous young womanhood. Commenting on this, the lady says: "Perhaps we see the thin edge of the wedge! In the near future women may be eligible for head gardeners' posts at good salaries. And why not? We have finer taste than men and should be quite in our element designing exquisite pleasure grounds. WISE ADVICE TO HUSBANDS.

Those Who Have Ailing Wives Will do Well to Accept It.

Do not wrangle and quarrel, and finally rush into the courts and try to get a separation from your faithful wife; but just stop a moment and think! Your wife, who was even-tempered and amiable, and all that was lovely when you married her, has changed. Now she is peevish, irritable, jealous, discontented and miserable-in a word, she has uterine disorder of some kind.

Law is not the remedy for this condition, she needs medical treatment, her uterine system is at fault. My advice to you is, sit down and write a letter to that friend of women, Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., state fully and freely the whole case to her and she will honestly advise you what to do. Give your wife that chance, good man!

If you do not wish to write about your wife, bring her a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, watch its effects, you will soon see the beginning of the improvement; then get her another and keep it up until she is restored to you, the same lovely woman you married years ago.

Bubbles or Medals.

"Best sarsaparillas." When you think of it how contradictory that term is. For there can be only one best in anything—one best sarsaparilla, as there is one highest mountain, one longest river, one deepest ocean. And that best sarsaparilla is-?... There's the rub! You can measure mountain height and ocean depth, but how test sarsaparilla? You could if you were chemists. But then do you need to test it? The World's Fair Committee tested it, - and thoroughly. They went behind the label on the bottle. What did this sarsaparilla test result in? Every make of sarsaparilla shut out of the Fair, except Ayer's. So it was that Ayer's was the only sarsaparilla admitted to the World's Fair. The committee found it the best. They had no room for anything that was not the best. And as the best, Ayer's Sarsaparilla received the medal and awards due its merits. Remember the word "best" is a bubble any breath can blow; but there are pins to prick such bubbles. Those others are blowing more "best sarsaparilla" bubbles since the World's Fair pricked the old ones. True, but Ayer's Sarsaparilla has the medal. The pin that scratches the medal proves it gold. The pin that pricks the bubble proves it wind. We point to medals, not bubbles, when we say: The best sarsaparilla is Ayer's.
